The screenshot shows the Skyward Family Access website in a Windows Internet Explorer browser window. The page title is "Skyward Family Access - Windows Internet Explorer". The user is logged in as Bryce M. Letcher from Kansas High School (305). The navigation menu includes "Account Info", "Print", and "Logout". The main content area is titled "Message Center" and has two tabs: "Current" and "Expired". A yellow callout box points to the "Current" tab with the text: "Under the Current tab teachers can post messages to be viewed for a range of dates." Below the tabs is a "Teacher Messages" section containing a table of messages. A large yellow callout box on the left side of the page contains the following text:

Message Center

Click Message Center.

What can a family see on the Message Center?
The guardian or student would see current and expired messages that have been posted by teachers.

Who can see the student Message Center?
Any guardian or student who has access can view their Messages Center.

Slide 2 - Slide 2
