

Additional Requirements for CTE Math and Science Course Teachers Online Training

All educators teaching one of the CTE math or CTE science courses that meet a high school graduation requirement (listed below) must complete a math or science professional development course according to the Texas Education Agency (TEA) beginning in the 2019-20 school year. The TEA provides these courses that satisfy the above requirement on the Texas Gateway Online Resources site at no cost to the educator or school district. The links to these online trainings are provided below for your convenience.

Please click the link below to enroll in and complete the required training if you teach one of the CTE Mathematics Courses listed below:
