

Character Education

Fairness

Important Dates

Little Miss Meeting	4
Boy Scouts Parent Meeting	5
Make a pennant	7
GPISD College Night @ NSSH	11
Career Night	12
College Application Day	21
Medal of Honor /College Bound	22

Finally, fall actually feels like it has arrived. It's time for testing, projects, and conferences. However, don't forget about what else this month will bring: family, fun, and food!

It's just around the corner, folks. Due to there being one less week this month, I have fewer time slots for guidance lessons. Make sure you sign up ASAP.

Here are a few activities you

IT'S NOT FAIR!!

"fair" and "equal".

- Give different scenario cards and ask students to separate the cards into what is fair and what is unfair.

- Have students write an essay explaining why the rules they have in the classroom are fair or unfair.

"Fairness is not the end result, it's the opportunity. And everybody in America today has the opportunity to get ahead."

can do in your classroom:

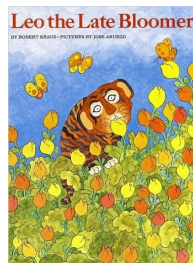

- Teach students about the difference between

- Writing Prompt: Do you think it's fair that the handicap parking

Remember

- Sign up for guidance lessons.
- College Application Month
- Backpack Buddy continues
- College t-shirts for students and faculty every Wednesday

Books You'll Love

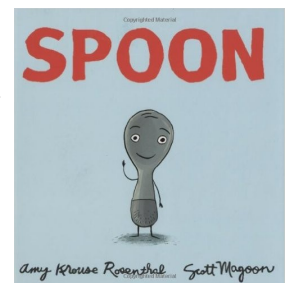

Leo the Late Bloomer

By: Robert Kraus

Spoon

By: Amy Krouse Rosenthal

It's Not Fair

By: Amy Krouse Rosenthal

GPISD

Wear your college shirt!

Every Wednesday in November!

Teachers! If your students do not have a college t-shirt, encourage them to wear your college colors. Take pictures! The class with the most class spirit, will get a sweet treat!

This month is College Application & Career Awareness Month. Check out some of the activities we have planned for this month.

- ◆ Decorate a pennant with the college and mascot of your choice.
- ◆ Check out the college word wall!
- ◆ Students will fill out mock applications. Those that turn their applications in on time will be admitted to College Bound Get Down on Friday, November 22nd in the gym!

